

THE LITTLE ADVENTURE OUTING KIT

Little adventures. A little less to carry.

A six-page outing kit for parents with babies and young children. Print only the pages you need.

Choose one lovely thing.

A short park visit, a library stop, or one family event is a full outing. Pick an easy departure time and give yourself permission to leave early.

A realistic example

9:00 Check the weather and the organizer's latest details.

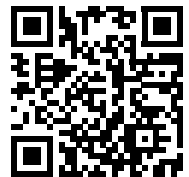

9:30 Leave after breakfast with water, a snack, and the small essentials.

10:00 Enjoy one activity.

10:45 Head home before everyone is worn out.

MAKE THE KIT YOUR OWN

Check the packing page, fill in your outing plan, and save one easy backup. Younger children can point to the picture hunt while a grown-up reads.

When the plan changes.

Keep the good part. Make the rest easier.

Rain arrives

Switch to your indoor backup, or bring the picture hunt home. Draw the things you saw from a window.

Everyone has less energy

Choose the closest, shortest version: one book at the library, one shady stop, or a quick walk near home.

The event is full or closed

Use the backup you checked before leaving. Save the original idea for another day.

The outing costs more than planned

Choose a free nearby option or make this a home adventure. Your spending limit gets to stay a limit.
